Piccard to Make Further Trips Into Upper Air

10-MILE FLIGHT HAS PROVEN THE STRATOSPHERE IS NAVIGABLE

Gurgl, Austria, May 29.—(U.P.)—Prof. Auguste Piccard, elated at the success of his flight to an altitude higher than man had ever ascended, planned today to make other excursions into the upper air in the interests of science.

He and his companion, Charles Kipfer, refreshed by a sound night's sleep—their first in 48 hours—were ready to climb back to the glacier high in the Austrian Alps, to recover the balloon in which they soared 52,500 feet into the stratosphere.

They had broken all altitude records by more than two miles in their 10-mile ascent, but Piccard, professor in the University of Brussels, was more interested in the scientific value of the daring expedition than the fact that he had gained world fame as a balloonist.

Piccard's enthusiasm in summing up the scientific gains of the flight led him to predict that it had proved the stratosphere, or rare upper air strata, were navigable, and that life could exist 10 miles above the earth.

He aroused the imagination with his prophecies, hinting at airways filled with new types of flying machines racing at tremendous speed about the earth.

"The flight proved that the stratosphere is navigable," Prof. Piccard asserted. "It proved also that an aviator with his modern technical methods will be able to master the problems of pressure and cold at high altitudes."

"I am convinced that my studies will make life in the stratosphere possible in future. I am glad that I helped to inaugurate this new era of aerial transportation. I hope that others will now attempt similar flights to break my record."

Piccard told newspapermen he had conducted highly successful experiments between 15,000 and 16,000 meters (about 50,000 to 52,480 feet). He said in testing the increase in conductivity of the gases in cosmic rays, he had found the conductivity comparatively high.

This is one of Prof. Albert Einstein's theories, long disputed, and about which there still remains some doubt.

"I never doubted the success of the enterprise," Piccard said, "because everything was minutely organized in advance. It was very cold and we suffered some hardships above 30,000 feet. The barograph kept rising and at one time I thought we would never stop ascending."

"For a moment," he added, "I felt we were between life and death. When we were a little above 16,000 meters (about 52,500 feet) the balloon stopped and then began descending slowly. It finally dropped to 4,000 meters (about 13,100 feet) in little more than an hour. At that altitude we halted in our descent without apparent cause. It probably was due to the warmer temperature, expanding the gas."

"After sunset the cooler air enabled us to continue the descent, but we were faced with the danger of winds forcing us against the mountainsides, which might have proved disastrous. Of course, we were lucky to land on the glacier and not far from habitation."

Piccard said the landing at 11 P. M. Wednesday night was made easily and that no damage had been done to the balloon. It will be transferred from the glacier to Imst by truck and thence by train to Augsburg, Bavaria, starting point.

"The greatest altitude was reached between 4:30 A. M. (33 minutes after the start) and 7:30 A. M. Wednesday," he said. "In that time the balloon varied in altitude only a few hundred yards and we had a wonderful opportunity to make observations of the ionization of the air and in regard to cosmic rays."

"Our oxygen apparatus worked perfectly and, despite the low temperature of the stratosphere it was never below zero within the gondola. I never felt tired."

Gurgl, Austria, May 29. — Airship flight in the high and frosty regions of the stratosphere, which would link Europe and America within a few hours, was forecast today by Prof. Auguste Piccard.

The scientist-balloonist whose ascension of nearly 10 miles broke all altitude records, said the future of airships lies in the stratosphere. Airplane pilots hitherto have found their crafts attained super rates of speed in upper air strata.

Prof. Piccard went today up the glacier upon which he descended on Wednesday night. Under the eyes of hundreds who accompanied him, he inspected and explained the instruments which accompanied his flight. He said unless his backers instruct

EARTHQUAKES CAUSE CONCERN AMONG MEXICANS IN 4 STATES

Maxatlan, Mexico, May 29.—(U.P.)—Earthquakes in the last 36 hours caused concern among the populace of four states today. The quakes were felt spasmodically in Jalisco, Colima, Nayarit and Sinaloa.

Heavy rains and peculiar "cyclonic" atmospheric conditions have added to the uneasiness. High winds accompanied the phenomena.

ASH TO TAKE OFF SATURDAY ON PACIFIC FLIGHT

STARTS 6,000 MILE HOP FROM SABISHIRO BEACH, HONDO ISLAND, JAPAN

ASH SEEKS PRIZE OF $25,000 OFFERED BY TWO JAPANESE NEWSPAPERS

Sanishiro Beach, Hondo Island, Japan, May 29.—(U.P.)—Captain Thos. Ash Jr., American aviator, arrived here at 3:44 P. M. today from Tokyo in his monoplane Pacific, and announced he would take off at 8 A. M. Saturday on his projected flight across the Pacific ocean.

Sabishiro Beach, where Ash will start his hazardous 6,000-mile flight, is 380 miles north of the Japanese capital city. He left there earlier in the day after a final inspection of the plane.

The airplane Pacific, formerly known as the City of Tacoma II, was used by Lieut. Harold Bromley and Harold Gatty last August in an unsuccessful attempt to span the ocean. They were forced to return because of a faulty radiator, which has been rebuilt by Ash along with other improvements.

Ash seeks a prize of $25,000 offered by the Japanese Asahi newspapers of Tokyo and Osaka for the first non-stop flight across the Pacific.

The aviator will carry a load of 1200 gallons of gasoline, which he calculated will carry him to Seattle, Wash. He has lightened the plane considerably by eliminating equipment. He said the fact that he is flying alone also will mean an important saving in weight.

BELIEVES HIS PHYSICAL STAMINA EQUAL TO A BULL'S

San Benito, Tex., May 29.—(U.P.)—Believing his physical stamina equal or superior to that of a bull, Walter Hofer of Laferia was pushing a well-filled wheelbarrow across country today to prove his contention.

Hofer was trying to win a wager that he could push a wheelbarrow containing his sister from the Mexican border to New York in less time than it recently took Ralph Sanders to ride a bull the same distance.

He was jubilant and confident over the fact that he was ahead of the bull's record thus far. He made the distance from Brownsville yesterday in seven hours, whereas the bull required two days for the same lap.

Sinclair Lewis, in Sauk Centre High School Annual, Defends Main Street Against World

WOULD CHOOSE PRAIRIE TOWN FOR SECOND BOYHOOD

IMPRESSION MADE BY HOME TOWN IS DEEP, MEMORIES ARE LASTING

IN NO PLACE IN THE WORLD COULD HE HAVE FOUND MORE FRIENDLINESS

Sauk Centre, Minn., May 29.—(U.P.)—Sinclair Lewis, the red-headed boy from Sauk Centre who won a Nobel prize for his criticisms of American life, today defended Main Street against the world.

Writing in the Sauk Centre high school annual, an alumni number of the "Osa-ge," Lewis who spent his boyhood in this section of Minnesota, said he would choose a prairie town for a second boyhood against any other place in the world.

The article is entitled, "The Long Arm of the Small Town."

"It is extraordinary how deep is the impression made by the place of one's birth and rearing, and how lasting are its memories," writes Lewis as a native son rather than in his usual critical manner.

"It is 29 years now since I left Sauk Centre to go east to college. In this more than a quarter of a century I have been back two or three times for a couple of months, several times for a couple of weeks, but otherwise I have been utterly out of touch with the town. Yet it is as vivid to my mind as though I had left there yesterday."

"I find myself thinking of its streets and its people and the familiar, friendly faces when I am on the great avenues of New York, Paris, Berlin or Stockholm; when I am in little stony, hilly villages of Italy or sun-basking villas in Spain, or the ancient yellow temples of Athens."

"To me, forever, ten miles will not be a distance in the mathematical tables, but slightly more than a distance from Sauk Centre to Melrose. To me, forever, the direction west will have nothing to do with California or the Rockies; it will be that direction which is to the left—towards Hoboken Hill—if you face the house of Dr. E. J. Lewis."

"So primitive and inherent are the impressions of boyhood. And I, who am writing this in Connecticut and shall go in mid-day to the farm I have bought in Vermont, haven't the slightest regret that I was born and reared in a prairie village instead of in New England or New York, old England or the continent of Europe, for the matter of that."

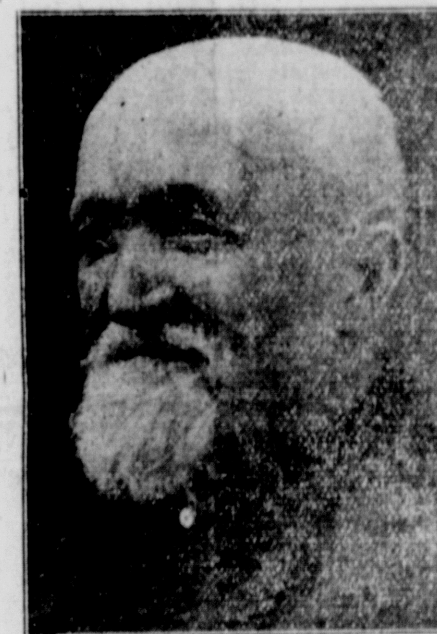

"If I seem to have criticized prairie villages, I have certainly criticized them no more than I have New York or Paris, or the great universities. I am quite certain that I could have been born and reared in no place in the world where I would have had more friendliness."

"Indeed, as I look at these sons of rich men in New England with their motor cars and their travel, it seems to me that they are not having one-tenth the fun which I had as a kid, swimming and fishing in Sauk lake, or cruising its perilous depths on a raft (probably made of stolen logs), tramping out to Fairy lake for a picnic, tramping ten miles on end with a shotgun in October, sliding on Hoboken Hill, stealing melons, or listening to the wonders of an elocutionist at the G. A. R. hall. It was a good time, a good place, and a good preparation for life."

Three East St. Louis Hoodlums Plead Not Guilty to Robbery

Lincoln, Neb., May 29.—(U.P.)—Three East St. Louis, Ill., hoodlums charged with participation in the $2,800,000 robbery of the Lincoln National Bank, entered pleas of not guilty when arraigned today.

The three, Jack Britt, Thomas (Pat) O'Connor and Howard (Pop) Lee, brought here from Chicago the first of the week, were bound over to trial in district court. Bond was fixed at $100,000 each.

Rep. Chas. A. Mooney Dies at Cleveland, O.

Cleveland, O., May 29.—(U.P.)—Congressman Charles A. Mooney, democratic representative from the 20th Ohio district for six consecutive terms, died at his home today after an attack of double pneumonia. A democratic stronghold, the 20th Ohio district has given Mooney large majorities each successive election. The selection of a democrat to succeed him was believed a virtual certainty.

TEXAS GUINAN AND TROUPE ARE BARRED FROM FRANCE

La Havre, France, May 29.—(U.P.)—Texas Guinan, her white horse and her troupe of show girls were barred from France today when they arrived on the liner Paris. Unless they can persuade the government to relent, they will be shipped back on the Paris.

As the French detectives left the ship, Miss Guinan screamed at them from the top deck:

"They, suckers, I've been thrown out of better places than this."

OIL BURNING DIESEL MOTOR AIDED RECORD

CARRIED LEES AND BROSSY TO WORLD'S NON-REFUELING ENDURANCE MARK

PACKARD TEST PILOTS LANDED LAST EVENING AT JACKSONVILLE BEACH

Jacksonville, Fla., May 29.—(U.P.)—An oil burning Diesel motor today had carried Walter Lees and Fred Brossy to a new world's non-refueling endurance record at 84 hours and ten minutes, nearly ten hours beyond the previous mark, 75 hours and 23 minutes established by two Frenchmen in Algiers recently.

The Packard test pilots landed with their fuel exhausted on Jacksonville Beach at 7:20 P. M. yesterday, having demonstrated, they said, a pronounced superiority in efficiency and economy of a Diesel motor over the regular gasoline motors used almost exclusively in aviation.

It was the third attempt for the pair, their second try last month having ended involuntarily in a heavy rain squall when they were within three hours of the record. An earlier attempt failed when a fuel line burst.

The flight demonstrated, Edward McCauley, son of the president of the Packard Motor Company, sponsors of the flight, said that the Diesel oil-burning engine can be operated at 25 per cent the cost of gasoline and that fuel oil provides greater fuel economy as the load lightens instead of vice versa as is the case with gasoline.

Lees and Brossy hopped off at 6:47 A. M. Monday with favorable weather reports, a perfectly tuned motor, plenty of fuel and food and a small cook stove with which to prepare their meals.

ENGINEERING DIFFICULTIES HAVE BEEN SOLVED

ONLY TREATY AGREEMENTS REMAIN TO START ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY

CONFERENCE BEING HELD AT FORT WILLIAM, ONT., LAST- ING THREE DAYS

Fort William, Ont., May 29.—(U.P.)—Only treaty agreements between the United States and Canada remain before the deep water ways route from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic is started, C. A. Maguire, president of the Great Lakes Harbors Association, told the on-to-the-sea convention last night.

He said engineering difficulties had been solved and that the formal diplomatic functions were all that remained to be settled. He estimated that the waterway would save Canadian and middle western shippers at least $50,000,000 a year.

"Chicago's diversion has been a great difficulty but I believe it has been overcome finally," Maguire said. "I don't believe it again will be serious." Maguire said opposition to the waterway was dwindling and cited the statement of President E. W. Gearty of the Canadian Pacific Railway that the construction of such a traffic channel would promote prosperity.

Delegates to the three-day convention at the Twin Ports here are attempting to obtain approval of the waterways project by both the Canadian and United States governments.

DIES FROM INJURIES IN CAR-BUS CRASH

Minneapolis, May 29.—(U.P.)—Henry Richards, St. Paul, died today from injuries received in an automobile-bus collision near Forest Lake Wednesday night.

Richards was the second victim of the crash, Albert Kaffie, a brother-in-law, being killed in the accident. Mrs. Irene Kaffie, his wife, was still unconscious today in critical condition. Four others were injured in the mishap.

28 PERSONS ARE ARRESTED AS COGS IN THE 'MACHINE'

18 MONTHS' INVESTIGATION PRECEDING RAIDS MADE IN MIDWEST

MORE THAN 150 OTHER PERSONS IN 7 SOUTHWESTERN STATES FACE ARREST

Kansas City, Mo., May 29.—(U.P.)—Records said to implicate city authorities and political leaders were studied today by United States attorneys as they prepared to prosecute 28 persons arrested as cogs in "a gigantic liquor traffic ring."

After making their latest arrest, agents said that in the apartment of George Subbelfield, alias O. Jensen, they found cancelled checks marked with the words, "cops" and "for pay-off." The names on the checks were not revealed.

Miss Rosemary Lyons, for 14 years delinquent tax collector for the city, denied accusations that she kept books for the syndicate whose business was said to exceed $1,000,000 annually.

H. L. Dunham, in charge of the 18-months' investigation preceding the raids, said he had positive information that John Lazia, one of the men arrested, was a personal representative of Al Capone.

All those arrested were released on bonds of from $2,000 to $10,000. Duncan said more than 150 others in seven southwestern states were booked for arrest.

He said still others will be summoned to provide information. If they refuse to appear voluntarily, they will be forcibly taken before investigators, he declared.

Challenge to Church in Industrial Depression

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 29.—(U.P.)—There is a challenge to the church in the industrial depression, Senator David A. Reed, Pennsylvania, told the 143rd general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., today.

The business crash brought a "realization for the need of spirituality in our lives," Senator Reed said. "It is now the duty of the Presbyterian church to fill this need and demand a revival of individual religious faith. The time presents a challenge and responsibility to the church."

Dr. Lewis Seymour Nudge, Philadelphia, was advanced from stated clerk to moderator of the assembly.

FORMER SEN. REED CRITICIZES HOOVER

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—President Hoover will not serve another term in the White House if the democratic party is still alive in 1932, former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, predicted today.

"President Hoover is the most signal failure in the nation's history," Reed said as he left for Mason City, Iowa.

"Much water will run under the bridge between now and 1932 but other things being equal no party can win the presidential race by praiseworthy enforcement of the eighteenth amendment."

Republican National Committee Defends Hawley Smoot Rates

Washington, May 29.—(U.P.)—The republican national committee today replied to agitation for tariff reduction with a spirited defense of the Hawley Smoot rates and an assertion that present duties are "in some cases perhaps not high enough."

If the present tariff is not maintained, the committee said, "the American people can look forward to the leanest years ever witnessed on this continent."

Another Storm Over America's Junketing Mayors in France

Paris, May 29.—(U.P.)—Another storm was arising amidst America's junketing mayors today because it had been learned that it is the custom of the French government to reward the leader of such a group with a knighthood of the Legion of Honor.

Mayor George Baker of Portland would be the one man in the group eligible for such distinction, and he was pushed out of chairmanship of the mayors' party, in favor of committee rule, because it was thought he was getting too much spotlight. If France were to give him the Legion's red ribbon there would be a second outbreak, it was said.

18 MONTHS' INVESTIGATION PRE- CEDING RAIDS MADE IN MIDWEST

MORE THAN 150 OTHER PERSONS IN 7 SOUTHWESTERN STATES FACE ARREST

Kansas City, Mo., May 29.—(U.P.)—Records said to implicate city authorities and political leaders were studied today by United States attorneys as they prepared to prosecute 28 persons arrested as cogs in "a gigantic liquor traffic ring."

After making their latest arrest, agents said that in the apartment of George Subbelfield, alias O. Jensen, they found cancelled checks marked with the words, "cops" and "for pay-off." The names on the checks were not revealed.

Miss Rosemary Lyons, for 14 years delinquent tax collector for the city, denied accusations that she kept books for the syndicate whose business was said to exceed $1,000,000 annually.

H. L. Dunham, in charge of the 18-months' investigation preceding the raids, said he had positive information that John Lazia, one of the men arrested, was a personal representative of Al Capone.

All those arrested were released on bonds of from $2,000 to $10,000. Duncan said more than 150 others in seven southwestern states were booked for arrest.

He said still others will be summoned to provide information. If they refuse to appear voluntarily, they will be forcibly taken before investigators, he declared.

Challenge to Church in Industrial Depression

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 29.—(U.P.)—There is a challenge to the church in the industrial depression, Senator David A. Reed, Pennsylvania, told the 143rd general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., today.

The business crash brought a "realization for the need of spirituality in our lives," Senator Reed said.

"It is now the duty of the Presbyterian church to fill this need and demand a revival of individual religious faith. The time presents a challenge and responsibility to the church."

Dr. Lewis Seymour Nudge, Philadelphia, was advanced from stated clerk to moderator of the assembly.

FORMER SEN. REED CRITICIZES HOOVER

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—President Hoover will not serve another term in the White House if the democratic party is still alive in 1932, former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, predicted today.

"President Hoover is the most signal failure in the nation's history," Reed said as he left for Mason City, Iowa.

"Much water will run under the bridge between now and 1932 but other things being equal no party can win the presidential race by promising enforcement of the eighteenth amendment."

Republican National Committee Defends Hawley Smoot Rates

Washington, May 29.—(U.P.)—The republican national committee today replied to agitation for tariff reduction with a spirited defense of the Hawley Smoot rates and an assertion that present duties are "in some cases perhaps not high enough."

If the present tariff is not maintained, the committee said, "the American people can look forward to the leanest years ever witnessed on this continent."

Another Storm Over America's Junketing Mayors in France

Paris, May 29.—(U.P.)—Another storm was arising amidst America's junketing mayors today because it had been learned that it is the custom of the French government to reward the leader of such a group with a knighthood of the Legion of Honor.

Mayor George Baker of Portland would be the one man in the group eligible for such distinction, and he was pushed out of chairmanship of the mayors' party, in favor of committee rule, because it was thought he was getting too much spotlight. If France were to give him the Legion's red ribbon there would be a second outbreak, it was said.

Schilling is Reappointed to Federal Farm Board

Washington, May 29.—(U.P.)—President Hoover today reappointed William F. Schilling, Minnesota, as member of the Federal Farm board.

COMES FROM COAST FOR MEMORIAL DAY

R. A. Claus Makes Pilgrimage to Brainerd to Place Flowers on Father's Grave

R. A. Claus, Brainerd resident from 1879 to 1890, paid Brainerd his first visit today, after many years of absence, to place wreaths of flowers on the grave of his father, James S. Claus, Civil War Veteran, who passed away in Brainerd in 1887.

Mr. Claus made the pilgrimage to Brainerd with his wife by automobile from their home at Vallejo, Calif., to participate in Memorial Day observance here. He was elated to visit friends who could discuss with him old times here.

"I am deeply impressed at the sight of Brainerd. It has improved into a lovely progressive city," he said.

Pointing out places in Brainerd he recalled early history here. He pointed out sites of former land marks in downtown Brainerd and recalled early incidents.

Mr. Claus is a veteran soldier himself. He joined the first militia here, Co. K Third Infantry and later was a member of the 15th Minnesota Volunteer Infantry at St. Paul where he moved after living here. He has been a resident of California since 1902, recently retiring from employment in the Mar Island Navy Yards. While in Brainerd Mr. and Mrs. Claus are staying at the Tourist Camp.

Miss Florence Olson, Edward Skiba Wed at Parsonage Rites

The marriage of Miss Florence Olson and Edward Skiba was solemnized at 6 o'clock last evening at the First Evangelical Lutheran parsonage, Rev. August Samuelson performing the ceremony.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Olson, Mr. Olson being a brother of the bride.

The bride was attired in a rose tan crepe with brown jacket, and the bridesmaid wore a blue silk crepe gown.

Following the wedding ceremony a wedding dinner was served at 7 o'clock at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Skiba, 1205 Mill avenue for the immediate relatives. Covers were laid for 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Skiba left immediately after on their wedding trip. On their return to Brainerd they will make their home at 802 South Sixth street. Mr. Skiba is employed as paper maker at The Northwest Paper Company.

The bride is the daughter of Erick Olson, 1124 East Pine street.

'CIMARRON' AS PICTURE TOPS FERBER NOVEL

Brought to the theatregoing public by Radio Pictures, Edna Ferber's epic "Cimarron," starting Sunday at the Palace theatre, is even more powerful than the great story, read by millions in America.

"Cimarron," the picture, is all that is gripping in "Cimarron," the story. Richard Dix as Yancey Cravat seems to have walked right out of the pages of the book. Lon Yountis will never be really slain until you see Dix do it, in the most poignant scene of talking picture history, the Osage gambling tent scene episode.

And those stupendous clashes of wills between Yancey and Sabra, as portrayed by Dix and Irene Dunne, should make the original story more than an epic. It becomes an immortal record of those deep psychological differences between American men and women, out of which has arisen the fundamental character of the nation.

Miss Margaret Mertens and Robert Peterson Married at Staples

Miss Margaret Mertens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Mertens of Staples and Robert Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Peterson of this city, were married Tuesday morning at the parish of the Sacred Heart Catholic church at Staples. The attendants were Ralph Falconer of Brainerd and Amos Mertens of Staples. The service was read by Rev. Fr. Zitum, pastor of the church.

Immediately following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson left on a trip to Canada and on their return, will make their home in Brainerd.

Governor Assures County Agent He Will be Available for Talking Engagement

County Agent E. G. Roth was assured today by letter from Governor Floyd E. Olson that the chief state executive had arranged his program so that he could fill a speaking engagement in Crow Wing county on June 27.

Governor Olson has accepted the invitation to talk at the Crow Wing County Farm Bureau picnic on that date.

Anticipating an attendance of thousands the Farm Bureau will meet next week to make plans for the picnic and arrange the place for holding it.

The suggestion has been made that the picnic be held at Grand View lodge on Gull Lake.

Among the out of town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Jacen Sykes, Frank Pappenfus and John Smuda, all of St. Cloud and Mrs. Reh of Little Falls.

75 Attend Inwood Dinner. Seventy-five Brainerd people participated in the opening dinner at Inwood Resort on Gull and Margaret Lakes last evening.

The dinner was served in the newly constructed lodge of native pine.

AUTHOR OF DOG EPIC WITH BYRD IN CITY

Jack O'Brien, late staff surveyor for the Byrd Expedition, came to Brainerd today to visit over Memorial Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Dunn, 323 North Third street.

His book, "By Dog Sled for Byrd," an interesting history of the part dogs and sleds played in the Antarctic polar success is now off the press and copies are offered at the H. P. Dunn Drug store here.

Mr. O'Brien is the son of John O'Brien, Duluth, conductor for the Northern Pacific railway Co. Mr. O'Brien has made his residence at Alexandria, Benidji, Mankato and Pipestone. He was a surveyor with the Byrd geological party, being with the expedition 15 months.

The author writes particularly of the 1600 miles covered by dog sled. Fifty eight dogs, nine dogs to a team, were used on the trip. He told of six puppies born but these died because of the extreme cold which recorded as low as 77 1/2 degrees below zero. The men and dogs took to the trail when the temperature was as low as 52 degrees below zero.

"Cimarron"

We Quote from a Letter Just Received from the Producers of "Cimarron":

Palace Theatre, Brainerd, Minn.

Referring to the contract which you hold for our production "Cimarron" which you are running May 31, June 1, 2 and 3. I wish to call your attention to the fact that your contract states that this picture can not be shown for less than the adult admission price of 35c.

The reason I am calling your attention to this matter is due to the fact that it is my understanding that your admission price for shows is 25c.

Please remember, Mr. Sinclair, that we feel, and so does the public wherever this picture has been shown, that "Cimarron" does not come under the class of regular pictures but instead is in a class of its own.

This Is Our Reason for Charging 35c Admission

GOLD MEDALS TO VALEDICTORIANS

Brainerd Elks Lodge Awards Trophies to Students in Seven Accredited High Schools of District

BRAINERD AWARD SATURDAY

Custom of Lodge is Very Pleasing One and Was Inaugurated About Seven Years Ago

Brainerd Elks lodge some seven years ago adopted the custom to present gold medals to the valedictorians of the accredited high schools in their jurisdiction. Originally starting with five schools, the list now numbers seven high schools, being those of Brainerd, Pillager, Staples, Pequot, Pine River, Crosby-Ironton and Aitkin.

At Crosby-Ironton the medal will be presented this evening by Past Exalted Ruler John A. Hoffbauer. The contest for valedictorian has been so close that it has narrowed to two and no decision had been reached this morning.

The Aitkin school medal will be presented to Arvo Haapa by Past Exalted Ruler John J. Cummins Saturday evening.

The Brainerd medal will be presented to Arden Miller tomorrow evening by County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan.

The Staples medal was presented to Evelyn Erickson by R. R. Gould.

The Pine River medal will be presented to Mildred Luiten this evening by County Attorney Arthur J. Sullivan.

The Pequot medal was presented to Maxine Larson last Tuesday and the Pillager medal Thursday to Dorothy Beyachau by Past Exalted Ruler Dr. A. K. Cohen.

EAST ROUND LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blackburn of Brainerd were dinner guests of Mrs. J. N. Francis Sunday.

Sunday afternoon Sunday school was held at the Linden House and a picnic afterwards which was enjoyed very much by the children.

Mrs. Frank Benjamin of Wayside farm was guest of her son Frank and family in Brainerd for a few days.

Her little grandson Veril came home with her.

Mrs. Elmer Workman of Twin Lakes spent Wednesday afternoon and had supper with Mrs. J. N. Francis.

Guests of the week at the J. N. Harrison home Pleasant Hill were Mr. and Mrs. J. Avery. Mr. and Mrs. Coning, Leeland Avery, Mrs. Eddie Frayer and Saturday Mrs. Harrison's children gave her a dinner at her own home.

It was to celebrate her 68th birthday.

Mrs. Edd Moon of Kianey Lake who broke her wrist some time ago is doing nicely.

Earl Borden is making a large chicken yard. Mrs. Borden has over 300 little chicks.

A porch will be added on to the new dining room at the Blue Goose.

CARLETON ACCEPTS HEALD PAINTING

Oil Painting of May Fete the Creation of Brainerd Matron, Hangs in Dormitory

Mrs. J. G. Heald has completed the panel of Carleton college's May fete on which she has been working. The picture has been accepted by the school, and hung in place over the fireplace in the parlors of the Margaret Evans dormitory where, as Dr. Cowling writes: "It occasions much favorable comment from May fete visitors."

The painting done in oil, is 30x70 inches, and represents the girl students of the school in the costumes of the days of King Arthur marching in procession before the enthroned May Queen. The picture is remarkable for its brilliant coloring which was the feature Dr. Cowling was especially pleased with.

Mrs. Heald had painted one picture before, this containing only 34 figures. The second picture, the one accepted by Carleton college, contains 150 figures.

PLOTTER AGAINST MUSSOLINI'S LIFE EXECUTED TODAY

CONFESSED ANARCHIST, MICHELE SCHIRRU, DIES BEFORE FIRING SQUAD

CONVICTED OF PLOT AGAINST THE ITALIAN PREMIER BEFORE SPECIAL TRIBUNAL

By EDWARD A. STORER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, May 29.—Michele Schirru, Italian naturalized citizen of the United States convicted of plotting to assassinate Premier Benito Mussolini, was executed at sunrise today.

The confessed anarchist, 32 years old, died before a firing squad at 4:47 A. M. He was convicted of the plot against Mussolini before the special tribunal for defense of the state yesterday and immediately was sentenced to die.

The execution of Schirru took place in the courtyard of the "Raschi" fortress, in the vicinity of the Vatican. The firing squad was composed of 12 fascist militiamen.

Schirru, pale and walking between guards, moved to his position in the courtyard as the fascists turned slowly to light. A detachment of 100 militiamen formed a square about the executioners.

An official communique said Schirru was shot in the back.

It is the custom in execution of military death sentences to shoot the condemned person in the back when the crime has been of "infamous" character, such as in the case of spies and traitors plotting against the state, the royal family or the premier.

GAS EXPLODES IN RICHARDS TUNNEL, SUSQUEHANNA COAL LIERIES CO.

INTERIOR IS BADLY WRECKED, DIFFICULT FOR RESCUE WORKERS TO GIVE AID

Mt. Carmel, Pa., May 29.—(AP)—Four miners were killed and six burned today in an explosion of gas in the Richards tunnel of the Susquehanna Coal Lieries Co.

The interior was badly wrecked and rescue workers had difficulty reaching the dead and injured miners.

Ambulances and doctors from all nearby mining companies were sent to the top of the shaft to await arrival of the injured and of the bodies of the dead at the surface.

The rescue party found Samuel Shoffstall, Kulpanoff, overcome. The rescue force was further delayed by the black damp.

BLEND ALONE WILL NOT INSURE PERFECT FLAVOR IN COFFEE

If the Blended Coffees Are Not Roasted Evenly, Flavor Varies

In the origination and perfection of Controlled Roasting, Hills Bros. accomplished something that no other coffee roaster has yet achieved. By this patented process, the degree of roast is positively controlled. The result is a uniform, Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform. The reason for the success of Controlled Roasting is that this process roasts a few pounds at a time instead of in bulk. By a continuous process these small amounts of coffee flow through the roasters in a steady stream, roasting a little at a time. Automatic control of both the flow and the heat absolutely prevents variation in the roast.

Bold as the claim may seem, no other coffee has the flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee. Wherever Hills Bros. Coffee is introduced it quickly becomes the preferred brand. Hills Bros. Coffee never "goes stale" because it is packed in vacuum. By this process, air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from the can and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, do not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade mark—on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

23 MONTHS OLD BABY FALLS INTO 45 FOOT WELL

NEIGHBORHOOD DIGS SHAFT TO RESCUE LAURETTA FONDERS IN MILWAUKEE

SCHOOL TEACHER THROWS AN ELECTRIC WIRE AROUND BABY, HAULS HER UP

Milwaukee, Wis., May 29.—(AP)—Twenty-three months old Lauretta Fonders was imprisoned two hours in a 45-foot-deep well before a school teacher rescued her by a simple method after police and firemen had failed.

Lauretta was playing alone when she fell into the abandoned well at her father's home. Her mother, Mrs. Wm. Fonders, discovered the accident. She called her husband. He called police. The police called firemen. Altogether, they attracted 2,000 spectators. The well had been partly filled and Lauretta was "wedged" between the walls above the water line. For many feet above her, the opening was so narrow a man or boy could not go down, so it was decided the only way to get her out was to sink a side shaft. The policemen and the firemen and the spectators were taking turns digging frantically and were down eight feet when Alvin Horn, a teacher, happened along.

Horn didn't offer to help dig. Instead, he procured a long piece of heavy electric wire, at the end of which he made a loop. Calmly waving the diggers aside, he dropped the loop into the well, jugged it over Lauretta's shoulders, pulled it tight under her arms—and dragged her out.

Physicians said Lauretta wasn't hurt much.

BANDIT GAINS ENTRY BY RUSE; ROBS, BINDS MATRON AND MAID

Minneapolis, May 29.—(AP)—Gaining entrance to an apartment in the exclusive Lake of the Isles district by the ruse of delivering a box of roses, a bandit bound Mrs. Raymond J. Martin and her maid and stole two valuable pieces of jewelry.

The bandit, described as middle aged and dark complexioned discarded the roses for a revolver when he was admitted to the apartment and bound Mrs. Martin and her maid Miss Fern Foster with rope.

He took a $2,500 necklace Mrs. Martin was wearing and a scarf pin containing 25 small diamonds from a dresser in an adjoining room. The bandit loosened the maid's bonds as he left.

PLOTTER AGAINST MUSSOLINI'S LIFE EXECUTED TODAY

CONFESSED ANARCHIST, MICHELE SCHIRRU, DIES BEFORE FIRING SQUAD

CONVICTED OF PLOT AGAINST THE ITALIAN PREMIER BEFORE SPECIAL TRIBUNAL
By EDWARD A. STORER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Rome, May 29. — Michele Schirru, naturalized citizen of the United States convicted of plotting to assassinate Premier Benito Mussolini, was executed at sunrise today.

The confessed anarchist, 32 years old, died before a firing squad at 4:47 A. M. He was convicted of the plot against Mussolini before the special tribunal for defense of the state yesterday and immediately was sentenced to die.

The execution of Schirru took place in the courtyard of the old "Raschi" fortress, in the vicinity of the Vatican. The firing squad was composed of 12 fascist militiamen.

Schirru, pale and walking between guards, moved to his position in the courtyard as the darkness turned slowly to light. A detachment of 100 militiamen formed a square about the executioners.

An official communique said Schirru was shot in the back.

It is the custom in execution of military death sentences to shoot the condemned person in the back when the crime has been of "infamous" character, such as in the case of spies and traitors plotting against the state, the royal family or the premier.

Memorial Day

MEMORIAL DAY has always been observed with patriotic fervor in Brainerd.

Young people and old unite to pay tribute to the men and women who gave their lives in the service of this country and to pledge devotion and fealty to those wounded in the service, who even now may be wracked with pain in some hospital or in their home. A meed of honor is extended too to those who were crippled in the service and, in fact, to all who took part in the various wars to preserve American ideals.

War is a dreadful thing and leaves its impress on mind and body and heart and Memorial Day does much to assuage grief and to strengthen the determination that gradually war will be outlawed, just as civilized nations have renounced slavery.

Brainerd's cemetery, Evergreen, is surpassingly lovely in its verdure clad hills and dales. Flowers planted by faithful and loving hands beautify each grave. The whole place breathes that spirit of immortality which is the guiding star of all humanity.

In the exercises there tomorrow we pay tender homage, we renew our faith in the principles of the republic, we proclaim our love for those who have done so much for us, we stimulate reverence and patriotism.

A Good Bill

ONE of the three bills proposed by the Minnesota Association for the Relief of Crippled Children was passed by the recent session of the legislature, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

This bill provides that state aid up to $150 a year per child may be granted any crippled child who can benefit from attendance at a public school, but who could not attend without this aid. The money may be spent either for board or for transportation, but not for both.

This bill does not make provision for the most severely crippled children who must attend special crippled children's schools, of which there are a few in the larger cities of the state. A bill which would have such provision, failed. A third bill providing a number of scholarships for crippled adults who cannot support themselves while taking the vocational training offered free by state and federal governments also failed. Much remains to be done in this field. Especially does the rural crippled child need to be given equal advantages with the crippled child of the city.

Minnesota is doing a splendid work in behalf of the crippled child. The Shrine Hospital, the Gillette Hospital for Crippled Children, the Elks, and the Children's Hospital are all doing their share through state and individual support. Many individuals have contributed to this cause but much remains to be done.

Detective Stories

IN the days of old the detective magazines were the thrilling dime novels, the yellow backed Nick Carter tales, the stories of the Indians with a redskin killed every chapter and the crack of a gun and the smoke of battle in almost every paragraph. Kids read the stories surreptitiously. There was a shingle session in the woodshed if Father caught his boy reading such stuff. It was feared it would stimulate the urge for adventure and cause boys to shoot up the neighborhood.

Nowadays the detective stories are generally based on a semblance of fact. Some detective publications record actual crimes, give pictures of suspected wrong doers and other valuable data. A truck driver in Missouri scans his favorite detective publication and lays the foundation for the successful identification and subsequent conviction of one of the most dangerous killers in American history.

Another set of readers, and it happened to be a police department in a western city, gains knowledge from a detective publication and uses it as the basis of arresting a man suspected of slaying his wife.

Just Flying Around

CAPT. FRANK HAWKS, American flier, is nonchalantly breaking all the flying records of Europe. He doesn't say a word about it, until the records are achieved. He set the fashion the other day for airplane rapid fire visits.

The gallant captain left Paris in the early morning, had breakfast in London, lunch in Berlin and dinner back in Paris. After lunch we suppose the captain brushed the dust off his clothes.

Today he started on a quick air tour of France. He left Le Bourget airport outside of Paris, that's the one where Lindbergh made his famous landing, and planned to visit nine cities in rapid succession and return home tomorrow.

The way Hawks darts about does not belie his name. He is a veritable hawk winging his way about Europe. He must carry a whole suit case full of passports.

MEMORIES of the University of Minnesota campus 25 years ago will be recalled in a radio program from Station WLB. The program will be presented by the committee of the class of 1906 in charge of the arrangements for the silver anniversary reunion of the group on the campus on June 8. Several members of the class who are now prominent in the social and civic life of Minnesota will broadcast.

FAILURE to obtain 1931 automobile license plates caused 114 arrests in April by the State Highway Patrol. In addition to the arrests made, 58 motorists had their cars impounded until this year's license was obtained, 1,181 were given tags requiring them to obtain new licenses within 48 hours and 267 were let off with a warning.

OUTSIDE newspaper advertising by the Chamber of Commerce setting forth the value and advantages in the Brainerd Lake Region has already set in motion a large number of inquiries, which are being answered as promptly as received. It is bringing new business to this lake country.

BRAINERD has had a lot of rain the last few days, and every bit of it can be used. It has moistened the ground, rejuvenated gardens and lawns and was a Godsend to the farmers.

THE wrath of the elements is a mighty thing. Hurling a passenger train from the tracks was but child's play for the tornado which ravaged the Moorhead district.

"MURDER AT EAGLE'S NEST"

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXVII.
ED hailed them gaily and gave Bim a long, speculative look. "Some mermaid," he said. And placed a warm hand on her shoulder, pressing down.

She shook herself free, half angry and half amused. Flirtatiousness was in Ted's blood; he probably couldn't help it.

"Found your lighter?" she inquired.
He answered with a trace of annoyance in his tone. "I did not and if anybody's snatched it there'll be doings. It's the only one I ever had that would work," he explained more reasonably.

She told him it was hard luck and set out with Carey across the grounds toward the house. They walked by the wall at the back of the estate and half way to the summer house met Millicent hurrying toward the stile. She was rushing along with her head down and at sight of them stopped short and, as it seemed to Bim, in some confusion.

"I was just going to see Em for a minute," she said, glancing at Carey.

"But you're going in the wrong direction for that," he told her.

She said, Yes—well, I—thought it seemed sort of late after all and Bob's alone. I won't stop now."

She hurried away.

Bim and Carey smiled at each other. "Almost crazy with worry," the girl remarked. "Poor little thing."

Hard to Decide

But Carey stared after the little figure clambering over the stile.

Bim refused Carey's invitation to dinner and left him on the corner by the Reformed Church.

After she had turned out a sizeable pile of copy for the Banner she spent a half-hour marketing and telephoned Walter that old Tom and herself expected him for the evening meal. It was a quiet, comfortable hour they had together with old Tom and Walter talking shop and Bim making frequent trips between the kitchen and the table. Something restful about Walter, she told herself; something which satisfied as no sparkling career in New York would.

Yet when the village clock was striking eleven and she was waiting in the darkness of Imogene's room for what might—or might not—happen downstairs, she was not so sure. She had always wanted a career.

It probably was about half past eleven that the gentle tapping began. More crafty tonight than she had been last, Bim stole downstairs and unlocked the door of the boudoir. She accomplished this almost noiselessly but in the instant that the door swung back she knew that her quarry had escaped.

What happened? She never was sure. The room was dark as the corridor and as the night beyond the open window opposite. Yet she thought that something slid through the room and out that window.

Bim did not move. Then the door beyond—the one which gave into the linen room—creaked faintly and almost simultaneously a force that seemed terrific fell upon her and bowled her over.

The door beyond creaked faintly and a force that seemed terrific fell upon her.

The darkness that was round about seemed to slide inside her head and she knew no more.

Bim awakened in Imogene's room with no idea whatever how she came to be there. She was lying on the bed with a blanket thrown across her rumpled dress.

When she tried to raise her head she found that it ached terribly and an exploratory finger located a sore place above her temple.

"Knocked for the loop you hear so much about," she told herself with a little shiver. "There still seem to be things going on around Eagle's Nest!"

As well as she could because of the headache, she debated with herself whether to tell Walter what had happened. In the end this seemed the wisest course even though it would increase his opposition to her activities in the murder case.

Accidental Eavesdropping

When the first warm rays of sunlight slanted through the chill of dawn outside the window, she managed to pull herself together and started out for the kitchen where she hoped to find the hot coffee which would relieve the headache and the distressing dryness of her throat. It was earlier than she had thought, however, for the household was still asleep—or so it seemed until she had got as far as the little back hallway outside the kitchen.

Pausing here with her hand to her head, Bim heard voices—that is, she heard a man's voice, low pitched and tense on the other side of the door. What he was saying came to her ears in an indistinguishable murmur pierced by sobs. A woman's sobs, Bim thought dizzily.

When the marmur stopped there was only the sobbing; then Bim heard the man say quite clearly, "You've got to beat it, you hear? You've got to beat it before—" She could not make out the rest of that sentence. When next he spoke it was less tensely and in a tone like a sigh; "I'll do all I can, though that's little enough. Make things up to you. You think I haven't paid?"

A board creaked under Bim's foot and when she turned the knob

and passed into the kitchen, the room was empty.

There was a rustle in the butler's pantry, nevertheless, and almost at once William appeared and regarded Bim with polite surprise.

She said, "Is there any coffee, William? I've a headache. I thought perhaps cook was down."

"Certainly, Miss; shall you have it in your room? It's all ready, Miss."

She saw then that a percolator was bubbling on a side table and toast was browning in an electric machine. "I like a cup of coffee before my swim," the amazing butler went on as he began to prepare a tray. "I'll bring this up at once."

A Long Chance

But she seated herself at the kitchen table and said she would remain there. "Didn't I hear you talking to someone, William?"

"I took the liberty of using the telephone, Miss. I've a friend down on his luck, so to speak. It's him I was talking to, Miss."

Bim regarded the man steadily, wondering at his poise. Of course he did not know how much of that low-pitched conversation she had heard but was taking a chance—a long chance—that it had not been too much.

"Have you always been a butler?" she asked curiously and watched a slow flush run up his face. But there was a twinkle in his red-brown eyes; he meant to consider her question merely an evidence of friendly interest.

"I've had my ups and downs, Miss. Butlering isn't a bad occupation for one that doesn't object to going into service. May I give you some toast, Miss?"

She accepted the toast, reflecting meanwhile that he had evaded her question in a skilful way.

The house was a stir before Bim had finished her breakfast and after a third cup of coffee she went to the room Em had assigned her on the third floor. Imogene had left and Bim threw herself upon the bed and was almost immediately asleep.

A tap awakened her a long time later and in response to her sleepy answer Jack appeared.

McNamee To Report Auto Classic

Indianapolis Speedway—McNamee at the "mike." Billy Arnold and mechanic.

GRAHAM MCNAMEE, radio's ace reporter of sporting events, has again been chosen as the nation's eye-witness for the 500-mile auto race classic at Indianapolis on May 30. The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company will sponsor the last and most exciting hour of the race. Perched high in the glass-enclosed percola near the finish line, McNamee will describe the shouting thousands in the stands, the milling hordes afoot inside the track, and the grueling tussle of 40 of the world's most famous racers in their grim race with death. McNamee says the Indianapolis races surpass all sporting events for excitement. He will take the air at 2:15 p. m. Central Standard time and will tell his story over a network of 55 stations in the United States and Canada, including WEA and the NBC red chain. Four former winners are entered. A win is worth about $50,000. It is said that all former records will be broken. (Broadcasting Time: 8:15 Eastern, 2:15 Central, 1:15 Mountain, 12:15 Coast. Daylight Saving one hour earlier.)

MAY DECIDE FATE OF THEIR PORTLY MANAGER

WILBERT ROBINSON HAS BEEN TARGET OF INTENSE CRITICISM

TEAM FAILED TO LIVE UP TO EARLY SEASON EXPECTATIONS

By LEO H. PETERSEN
New York, May 29.—The Brooklyn Robins moved into New York today for a three-game series against the Giants which may decide the fate of their portly manager, Wilbert Robinson.

Robinson, a target of criticism since the Brooklyn team failed to live up to early season expectations, may be replaced before the Robins begin their western tour Monday unless his club shows signs of life in the contests with the Giants.

A petition demanding the removal of Robinson is said to be circulating among Brooklyn fans. Rumor has it that Max Carey, former star outfielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates who also played with the Robins, will succeed Robinson. Carey has attended the last two Brooklyn games.

Club officials held a meeting yesterday, but denied any mention had been made of Robinson's removal. His contract still has this year to run but in some quarters it was predicted Robinson would be willing to step out provided he was paid his full annual salary of $15,000.

With the acquisition of Lefty O'Doul and Fresco Thompson last winter, Brooklyn was rated as one of the most formidable clubs in the league. Injuries and illness, however, overtook some of the star players at the start of the season and the Robins have never been able to hit their stride.

They are in seventh place, eight and one-half games behind the Giants, current pace setters. The Giants lost to Boston, 7 to 6 yesterday but retained their game and a half lead because St. Louis was beaten by Pittsburgh, 11 to 8.

Ed Brandt, star southpaw, registered his eighth consecutive victory of the season in turning back the Giants. His wildness kept him in constant trouble and only heavy hitting by his mates, who pounded Fred Fitzsimmons for five runs in eight innings and continued their assault on Pete Donohue in the ninth, allowed him to win.

The Pirates staged a four-run rally in the seventh inning to win over the Cardinals. St. Louis twice had come from behind to tie the count. Phillips, Pirate catcher, accounted for seven of the Pittsburgh runs. The game was called at the end of the seventh to allow Pittsburgh to catch a train.

Chicago dropped back to fourth place, a half game behind Boston, by losing a 3 to 1 decision to Cincinnati. Silas Johnson allowed the Cubs only five hits.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

All American League games were decided by one run. The Philadelphia Athletics defeated New York, 5 to 4 on Lefty Grove's relief pitching and batting. Grove doubled in the ninth inning, went to third on Cochrane's infield hit and scored the winning run on Simmons' fly.

Washington kept within four and one half games of the Athletics by defeating Boston, 4 to 3, to make it three straight over the Red Sox. Cleveland scored five runs in the

23 MONTHS OLD BABY FALLS INTO 45 FOOT WELL

NEIGHBORHOOD DIGS SHAFT TO RESCUE LAURETTA FONDERS
IN MILWAUKEE

SCHOOL TEACHER THROWS AN ELECTRIC WIRE AROUND
BABY, HAULS HER UP

Milwaukee, Wis., May 29. — (UP) — Twenty-three-month-old Lauretta Fonders was imprisoned two hours in a 45-foot-deep well before a school teacher rescued her by a simple method after police and firemen had failed.

Lauretta was playing alone when she fell into the abandoned well at her father's home. Her mother, Mrs. Wm. Fonders, discovered the accident. She called her husband. He called police. The police called firemen. Altogether, they attracted 2,000 spectators.

The well had been partly filled and Lauretta was wedged between the walls above the water line. For many feet above her, the opening was so narrow a man or boy could not go down, so it was decided the only way to get her out was to sink a side shaft.

The policemen and the firemen and the spectators were taking turns digging frantically and were down eight feet when Alvin Horn, a teacher, happened along.

Horn didn't offer to help dig. Instead, he procured a long piece of heavy electric wire, at the end of which he made a loop. Calmly waving the diggers aside, he dropped the loop into the well, jiggled it over Lauretta's shoulders, pulled it tight under her arms—and dragged her out.

Physicians said Lauretta wasn't hurt much.

BANDIT GAINS ENTRY BY RUSE; ROBS, BINDS MATRON AND MAID

Minneapolis, May 29. — (UP) — Gaining entrance to an apartment in the exclusive Lake of the Isles district by the ruse of delivering a box of roses, a bandit bound Mrs. Raymond J. Martin and her maid and stole two valuable pieces of jewelry.

The bandit described as middle aged and dark complexioned discarded the roses for a revolver when he was admitted to the apartment and bound Mrs. Martin and her maid Miss Fern Potter with rope.

He took a $2,500 necklace Mrs. Martin was wearing and a scarf pin containing 35 small diamonds from a dresser in an adjoining room. The bandit loosened the maid's bonds as he left.

Monroe, Mich., May 29. — (UP) — Thomas Taylor, 10, was killed instantly today when struck by the Detroit bound Red Arrow express.

The boy, riding his bicycle to school, had waited for the passing of a freight train and then darted into the path of the express.

CITY TO PAY FINE TRIBUTE TOMORROW

Parade and Program at Cemetery to be High Lights of
Day

CLEAR SKIES PREDICTED

Evergreen at Height of Beauty
With Thousands of Flowers
on the Graves

Fair skies were predicted for tomorrow's observance of Memorial Day
here.

By flowers, action, music and word
of mouth, tribute will be paid to the soldiers and sailors who gave their lives for the democracy of the United States and to those who live after serving their country in time of war.

A parade comprising patriotic organizations, official carriages, veterans, Camp Fire girls, two bands and
large delegations of students will start at 9 a. m. from the corner of
Seventh and Laurel streets.

The program at the cemetery will
find gathered thousands of people.

William D. Lyons, Minneapolis, vice commander of the 40 et 8 and assistant to the regional manager of the U.
S. Veterans Bureau in Minneapolis,
will deliver the Memorial Day address.

The program at the cemetery will
follow in this order:

Music—Brainerd City Band.
Invocation—Rev. Edgar A. Valiant.
Music—High school chorus, "The Blue and the Gray."

Lincoln's Gettysburg address—Gerald Cass, president of the Senior class,
Brainerd high school.

Music—Harmony Male Quartette.

Memorial Address—William D.
Lyons, Minneapolis.

Music—Legion Auxiliary band.

G. A. R. Ritual—Conducted by Commander Onley Edwards.

Decoration of the Cross—By commander of the G. A. R. post assisted
by G. A. R. Veterans and W. R. C.

Remarks—Mayor H. W. Creger.

Star Spangled Banner—Lead by Male quartette with band accompaniment.

Salute by Firing Squad.

Taps—Directed by Ira L. Peterson.

In the event of rain, which is unlikely, the exercises will be held at
the high school auditorium at 10 a. m.

Thousands of flowers have already been placed on the graves of the soldier dead at Evergreen cemetery
making the resting place even more
striking in beauty.

Flags will fly in all parts of the city and everyone will do some little part in observance of the day.

DAILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL PLANNED HERE

The Bible school of the First Methodist church will conduct a two weeks
daily vacation Bible school for children of the primary and junior departments, ages six to 13, beginning Monday, June 1 at 9 a. m.

Sessions will be held from 9 a. m.
to 12 o'clock noon each day except Saturday. Miss Helen Runberg will be superintendent of the junior department and Miss Vivian Foster assistant superintendent.

Miss Alta Holden will be superintendent of the primary department.

All parents are asked to cooperate and see that the children take advantage of this opportunity for religious instruction.

CALL FOR BIDS

MEET TO NEGOTIATE DIRECT PURCHASES

Eight of 11 Property Owners in Block
82 May Sell Direct on
Appraisals Made

WILL AVOID CONDEMNATION

Court Proceedings to Start Monday
When Judge Names
Appraisers of Land

The Brainerd Board of Education
will meet this evening for final action
in the purchase direct of property in Block 82, thus avoiding delay by condemnation proceedings and speeding
plans for the construction of the new
junior high school.

It is evident that seven or eight of the property owners will agree to the
values established by the appraisers
appointed by the Board of Education.
Two contractors, Victor Carlson and John Jackson appraised the buildings
and James R. Smith placed valuations
on the real estate.

Property owners have expressed
pleasure at the fairness of the ap-
praisals and the courtesy of the board
in permitting them to be saved the expense of appearing in condemnation
proceedings.

Eleven property owners in Block 82
are affected.

The board will be in the position to offer the buildings for sale, it was reported.

The first hearing of the condemnation proceedings will be Monday, June
1 in district court here when Judge
B. F. Wright, Park Rapids, will appoint appraisers and set the time for
them to meet.

Total cost of the new school including site will be $260,000.

FAIR SKIES FOR MEMORIAL DAY

COOLER WEATHER PREDICTED
BY UNITED STATES
WEATHER BUREAU

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—Memorial
Day observances and week end pleasure trips will be conducted under fair
skies and cooler weather the United States weather bureau said today.

Fresh winds will bring a 10 degree

drop in temperature to Minnesota tonight to relieve the four day heat
wave, it was said. Temperatures
around the northern and central part
of the state were at the 60 degree
mark at 7 a. m. today. By tomorrow
they will have dropped to under 50
degrees.

The cooler weather prevailed over North and South Dakota today and
temperatures were down to 46 in the northwest corner of the state. Bismarck, Williston and Devils Lake had 88.

Considerable rain fell over Iowa last
night but a long period of clear skies
was in store for the northwest, the
weather bureau said.

PROCLAMATION

It is my pleasing duty to request
all citizens of Brainerd to properly
observe Memorial Day. It is fitting that a worthy demonstration be made at the parade and later at the cemetery. I would request that flags be displayed in the business
and residential sections and that
all join in honoring the soldiers
living and dead who so faithfully
served their country.

HARRY W. CREGER,
Mayor of Brainerd.

Memorial Day

MEMORIAL DAY has always been observed with patriotic fervor in Brainerd.

Young people and old unite to pay tribute to the men and women who gave their lives in the service of this country and to pledge devotion and fealty to those wounded in the service, who even now may be wracked with pain in some hospital or in their home. A meed of honor is extended too to those who were crippled in the service and, in fact, to all who took part in the various wars to preserve American ideals.

War is a dreadful thing and leaves its impress on mind and body and heart and Memorial Day does much to assuage grief and to strengthen the determination that gradually war will be outlawed, just as civilized nations have renounced slavery.

Brainerd's cemetery, Evergreen, is surpassingly lovely in its verdure clad hills and dales. Flowers planted by faithful and loving hands beautify each grave. The whole place breathes that spirit of immortality which is the guiding star of all humanity.

In the exercises there tomorrow we pay tender homage, we renew our faith in the principles of the republic, we proclaim our love for those who have done so much for us, we stimulate reverence and patriotism.

A Good Bill

ONE of the three bills proposed by the Minnesota Association for the Relief of Crippled Children was passed by the recent session of the legislature, says the Bemidji Daily Pioneer.

This bill provides that state aid up to $150 per year per child may be granted any crippled child who can benefit from attendance at a public school, but who could not attend without this aid. The money may be spent either for board or for transportation, but not for both.

This bill does not make provision for the most severely crippled children who must attend special crippled children's schools, of which there are a few in the larger cities of the state. A bill which would have such provision, failed. A third bill providing a number of scholarships for crippled adults who cannot support themselves while taking the vocational training offered free by state and federal governments also failed. Much remains to be done in this field. Especially does the rural crippled child need to be given equal advantages with the crippled child of the city.

Minnesota is doing a splendid work in behalf of the crippled child. The Shrine Hospital, the Gillette Hospital for Crippled Children, the Elks, and the Children's Hospital are all doing their share through state and individual support. Many individuals have contributed to this cause but much remains to be done.

Detective Stories

IN the days of old the detective magazines were the thrilling dime novels, the yellow backed Nick Carter tales, the stories of the Indians with a redskin killed every chapter and the crack of a gun and the smoke of battle in almost every paragraph. Kids read the stories surreptitiously. There was a shingle session in the woodshed if Father caught his boy reading such stuff. It was feared it would stimulate the urge for adventure and cause boys to shoot up the neighborhood.

Nowadays the detective stories are generally based on a semblance of fact. Some detective publications record actual crimes, give pictures of suspected wrong doers and other valuable data.

A truck driver in Missouri scans his favorite detective publication and lays the foundation for the successful identification and subsequent conviction of one of the most dangerous killers in American history.

Another set of readers, and it happened to be a police department in a western city, gains knowledge from a detective publication and uses it as the basis of arresting a man suspected of slaying his wife.

Just Flying Around

CAPT. FRANK HAWKS, American flier, is nonchalantly breaking all the flying records of Europe. He doesn't say a word about it, until the records are achieved. He set the fashion the other day for airplane rapid fire visits.

The gallant captain left Paris in the early morning, had breakfast in London, lunch in Berlin and dinner back in Paris. After lunch we suppose the captain brushed the dust off his clothes.

Today he started on a quick air tour of France. He left Le Bourget airport outside of Paris, that's the one where Lindbergh made his famous landing, and planned to visit nine cities in rapid succession and return home tomorrow.

The way Halks darts about does not belie his name. He is a veritable hawk winging his way about Europe. He must carry a whole suit case full of passports.

MEMORIES of the University of Minnesota campus 25 years ago will be recalled in a radio program from Station WLB. The program will be presented by the committee of the class of 1906 in charge of the arrangements for the silver anniversary reunion of the group on the campus on June 8. Several members of the class who are now prominent in the social and civic life of Minnesota will broadcast.

FAILURE to obtain 1931 automobile license plates caused 114 arrests in April by the State Highway Patrol. In addition to the arrests made, 58 motorists had their cars impounded until this year's license was obtained, 1,181 were given tags requiring them to obtain new licenses within 48 hours and 267 were let off with a warning.

OUTSIDE newspaper advertising by the Chamber of Commerce setting forth the value and advantages in the Brainerd Lake Region has already set in motion a large number of inquiries, which are being answered as promptly as received. It is bringing new business to this lake country.

BRAINERD has had a lot of rain the last few days, and every bit of it can be used. It has moistened the ground, rejuvenated gardens and lawns and was a Godsend to the farmers.

THE wrath of the elements is a mighty thing. Hurling a passenger train from the tracks was but child's play for the tornado which ravaged the Moorhead district.

"MURDER AT EAGLE'S NEST"

By WINIFRED VAN DUZER

CHAPTER XXXVII.
ED hailed them gaily and gave Bim a long, speculative look. "Some mermaid," he said. And placed a warm hand on her shoulder, pressing down.

She shook herself free, half angry and half amused. Flirtatiousness was in Ted's blood; he probably couldn't help it. "Found your lighter?" she inquired.

He answered with a trace of annoyance in his tone. "I did not and if anybody's snatched it there'll be doings. It's the only one I ever had that would work," he explained more reasonably.

She told him it was hard luck and set out with Carey across the grounds toward the house. They walked by the wall at the back of the estate and half way to the summer house met Millicent hurrying toward the stile. She was rushing along with her head down and at sight of them stopped short and, as it seemed to Bim, in some confusion.

"I was just going to see Em for a minute," she said, glancing at Carey.

"But you're going in the wrong direction for that," he told her. She said, Yes—well. I—thought it seemed sort of late after all and Bob's alone. I won't stop now." She hurried away.

Bim and Carey smiled at each other. "Almost crazy with worry," the girl remarked. "Poor little thing."

Hard to Decide

But Carey stared after the little figure clambering over the stile.

Bim refused Carey's invitation to dinner and left him on the corner by the Reformed Church. After she had turned out a sizeable pile of copy for the Banner she spent a half-hour marketing and telephoned Walter that old Tom and herself expected him for the evening meal. It was a quiet, comfortable hour they had together with old Tom and Walter talking shop and Bim making frequent trips between the kitchen and the table. Something restless about Walter, she told herself; something which satisfied as no sparkling career in New York would.

Yet when the village clock was striking eleven and she was waiting in the darkness of Imogene's room for what might—or might not—happen downstairs, she was not so sure. She had always wanted a career.

It probably was about half past eleven that the gentle tapping began. More crafty tonight than she had been last, Bim stole downstairs and unlocked the door of the boudoir. She accomplished this almost noiselessly but in the instant that the door swung back she knew that her quarry had escaped.

What happened? She never was sure. The room was dark as the corridor and as the night beyond the open window opposite. Yet she thought that something slid through the room and out that window.

Bim did not move. Then the door beyond—the one which gave into the linen room—creaked faintly and almost simultaneously a force that seemed terrific fell upon her and bowed her over.

The door beyond creaked faintly and a force that seemed terrific fell upon her.

The darkness that was round about seemed to slide inside her head and she knew no more.

Bim awakened in Imogene's room with no idea whatever how she came to be there. She was lying on the bed with a blanket thrown across her rumpled dress. When she tried to raise her head she found that it ached terribly and an exploratory finger located a sore place above her temple.

"Knocked for the loop you hear so much about," she told herself with a little shiver. "There still seem to be things going on around Eagle's Nest!"

As well as she could because of the headache, she debated with herself whether to tell Walter what had happened. In the end this seemed the wisest course even though it would increase his opposition to her activities in the murder case.

Accidental Eavesdropping

When the first warm rays of sunlight slanted through the chill of dawn outside the window, she managed to pull herself together and started out for the kitchen where she hoped to find the hot coffee which would relieve the headache and the disconcerting dryness of her throat. It was earlier than she had thought, however, for the household was still asleep—or so it seemed until she had got as far as the little back hallway outside the kitchen.

Pausing here with her hand to her head, Bim heard voices—that is, she heard a man's voice, low pitched and tense on the other side of the door. What he was saying came to her ears in an indistinguishable murmur pierced by sobs. A woman's sobs, Bim thought dizzily.

When the murmur stopped there was only the sobbing; then Bim heard the man say quite clearly, "You've got to beat it, you hear? You've got to beat it before—" She could not make out the rest of that sentence. When next he spoke it was less tensely and in a tone like a sigh; "I'll do all I can, though that's little enough. Make things up to you. You think I haven't paid?"

A board creaked under Bim's foot and when she turned the knob

and passed into the kitchen, the room was empty.

There was a rustle in the butler's pantry, nevertheless, and almost at once William appeared and regarded Bim with polite surprise.

She said, "Is there any coffee, William? I've a headache. I thought perhaps cook was down."

"Certainly, Miss; shall you have it in your room? It's all ready, Miss."

A Long Chance

But she seated herself at the kitchen table and said she would remain there. "Didn't I hear you talking to someone, William?"

"I took the liberty of using the telephone, Miss. I've a friend down on his luck, so to speak. It's him I was talking to, Miss."

Bim regarded the man steadily, wondering at his poise. Of course he did not know how much of that low-pitched conversation she had heard but was taking a chance—a long chance—that it had not been too much.

"Have you always been a butler?" she asked curiously and watched a slow flush run up his face. But there was a twinkle in his red-brown eyes; he meant to consider her question merely an evidence of friendly interest.

"I've had my ups and downs, Miss. But there's a bad occupation for one that doesn't object to going into service. May I give you some toast, Miss?"

She accepted the toast, reflecting meanwhile that he had evaded her question in a skillful way.

The house was a stir before Bim had finished her breakfast and after a third cup of coffee she went to the room Em had assigned her on the third floor. Imogene had left and Bim threw herself upon the bed and was almost immediately asleep.

A tap awakened her a long time later and in response to her sleepy answer Jane appeared.

yesterday but retained their game and a half lead because St. Louis was beaten by Pittsburgh, 11 to 8.

Ed Brandt, star southpaw, registered his eighth consecutive victory of the season in turning back the Giants. His wildness kept him in constant trouble and only heavy hitting by his mates, who pounded Fred Fitzsimmons for five runs in eight innings and continued their assault on Pete Donohue in the ninth, allowed him to win.

The Pirates staged a four-run rally in the seventh inning to win over the Cardinals. St. Louis twice had come from behind to tie the count. Phillips, Pirate catcher, accounted for seven of the Pittsburgh runs. The game was called at the end of the seventh to allow Pittsburgh to catch a train.

Chicago dropped back to fourth place, a half game behind Boston, by losing a 3 to 1 decision to Cincinnati. Silas Johnson allowed the Cubs only five hits.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

All American League games were decided by one run. The Philadelphia Athletics defeated New York, 5 to 4 on Lefty Grove's relief pitching and batting. Grove doubled in the ninth inning, went to third on Cochrane's infield hit and scored the winning run on Simmons' fly.

Washington kept within four and one half games of the Athletics by defeating Boston, 4 to 3, to make it three straight over the Red Sox. Cleveland scored five runs in the

McNamee To Report Auto Classic

Indianapolis Speedway—McNamee at the "mike." Billy Arnold and mechanic.

GRAHAM McNAMEE, radio's ace reporter of sporting events, has again been chosen as the nation's eye-witness for the 500-mile auto race classic at Indianapolis on May 30. The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company will sponsor the last and most exciting hour of the race. Perched high in the glass-enclosed pergola near the finish line, McNamee will describe the shouting thousands in the stands, the milling hordes afoot inside the track, and the gruelling tussle of 40 of the world's most famous racers in their grim race with death. McNamee says the Indianapolis races surpass all sporting events for excitement. He will take the air at 2:15 p. m. Central Standard time and will tell his story over a network of 55 stations in the United States and Canada, including WEA and the NBC red chain. Four former winners are entered. A win is worth about $50,000. It is said that all former records will be broken. (Broadcasting Time: 3:15 Eastern, 2:15 Central, 1:15 Mountain, 12:15 Coast. Daylight Saving one hour earlier.)

Dessau, Germany, May 29.—(U.P.)—The Junkers Aircraft factory hastened construction today of a special airplane intended for flights in the stratosphere or upper air, explored by Professor Piccard in his balloon and subsequently declared suitable for human existence.

The ship will have but one engine and will be of low-winged all-metal construction with a wing spread of about 92 feet.

The pilot's compartment will be air tight, specially equipped to regulate the air pressure within.

ANNUAL TRACK, FIELD MEET OF THE I. C. A. A. A. STAGED

FOR FIRST TIME SINCE THEIR INCEPTION FIFTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

OUTDOOR MEET AWARDED TO BERKELEY, CALIF., BETWEEN JULY 2 AND 6

Philadelphia, Penn., May 29.—(U.P.)—For the first time since their inception 55 years ago, the annual I. C. A. A. A. track and field games will be staged west of the Mississippi river in 1932. Officials of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America decided last night to hold the fifty-fifth renewal of their outdoor meet in Berkeley, Calif., some time between July 2 and 6. Lloyd W. Georgeson of the University of California officially invited the body to hold its next meet at the site of California's state university.

One of the determining factors in awarding the meet to Berkeley was that the athletes would then already be on the coast for the final Olympic tryouts to be held at Los Angeles July 15 and 16.

Today will be devoted entirely to the running of qualifying heats with all finals scheduled for tomorrow. More than 500 athletes, from 37 colleges are entered.

Southern California or Stanford is expected to take the team championship west for the tenth time in the last eleven years. Southern California, with a well-balanced, powerful squad of 21 men, is a heavy favorite to retain the title it won in 1930. The Trojans squad is headed by the flying Frank Wykoff and includes nine of the men who scored points last year at Cambridge.

Eastern hopes are centered in Lawson Robertson's University of Pennsylvania outfit headed by that one-man track team, Barney Berlinger. The Pennsylvanians, however, are entirely too weak in the sprints and hurdles to be given more than an outside chance of victory.

WERNER STRIKES OUT FIFTEEN AND ALLOWS ONLY FIVE HITS

A third inning hitting splurge that netted 6 runs enabled the Montgomery & Ward kittenball team to defeat the Brainerd Beverages, 10-3, in a loosely played game at the N. P. diamond last night.

"Cannonball" Werner maintained the lead by striking out 15 and allowing but five scattered hits. Kane, Graft, and Werner gathered 6 of the Ward hits. Kane, Trask and Graft contributing home runs to the Ward cause. Schwendeman played a fine defensive game.

Propotnik was the leading stickler for the Brainos, getting two hits out of three times at bat for extra bases. Holman pitched steady ball but ragged fielding by his mates kept him in trouble throughout the game.

Call for PALMER

Lived Long Ago
The hunting folk who had no metals, no agriculture, no domestic animals, but who drew on the walls of their caves pictures of the animals they hunted and ate almost as well as we can draw now, are estimated to have lived 15,000 or 16,000 years ago.

CITY TO PAY FINE TRIBUTE TOMORROW

Parade and Program at Cemetery to
be High Lights of
Day

CLEAR SKIES PREDICTED

Evergreen at Height of Beauty
With Thousands of Flowers
on the Graves

Fair skies were predicted for tomorrow's observance of Memorial Day
here.

By flowers, action, music and word
of mouth, tribute will be paid to the
soldiers and sailors who gave their lives for the democracy of the United States and to those who live after
serving their country in time of war.

A parade comprising patriotic organizations, official carriages, veterans, Camp Fire girls, two bands and
large delegations of students will
start at 9 a. m. from the corner of
Seventh and Laurel streets.

The program at the cemetery will
find gathered thousands of people.

William D. Lyons, Minneapolis, vice commander of the 40 and 8 and assistant to the regional manager of the U.
S. Veterans Bureau in Minneapolis,
will deliver the Memorial Day address.

The program at the cemetery will
follow in this order:

Music—Brainerd City Band.

Invocation—Rev. Edgar A. Valiant.

Music—High school chorus, "The Blue and the Gray."

Lincoln's Gettysburg address—Ger-
ald Cass, president of the Senior class,
Brainerd high school.

Music—Harmony Male Quartette.

Memorial Address—William D.
Lyons, Minneapolis.

Music—Legion Auxiliary band.

G. A. R. Ritual—Conducted by Com-
mander Onley Edwards.

Decoration of the Cross—By commander of the G. A. R. post assisted
by G. A. R. Veterans and W. R. C.

Remarks—Mayor H. W. Creger.

Star Spangled Banner—Lead by Male quartette with band accompaniment.

Salute by Firing Squad.

Taps—Directed by Ira L. Peterson.

In the event of rain, which is unlikely, the exercises will be held at
the high school auditorium at 10 a. m.

Thousands of flowers have already
been placed on the graves of the
soldier dead at Evergreen cemetery
making the resting place even more
striking in beauty.

MEET TO NEGOTIATE DIRECT PURCHASES

Eight of 11 Property Owners in Block
82 May Sell Direct on
Appraisals Made

WILL AVOID CONDEMNATION

Court Proceedings to Start Monday
When Judge Names
Appraisers of Land

The Brainerd Board of Education
will meet this evening for final action
in the purchase direct of property in Block 82, thus avoiding delay by condemnation proceedings and speeding
plans for the construction of the new
junior high school.

It is evident that seven or eight of
the property owners will agree to the
values established by the appraisers
appointed by the Board of Education.
Two contractors, Victor Carlson and John Jackson appraised the buildings
and James R. Smith placed valuations
on the real estate.

Property owners have expressed
pleasure at the fairness of the ap-
praisals and the courtesy of the board
in permitting them to be saved the
expense of appearing in condemnation
proceedings.

Eleven property owners in Block 82
are affected.

The board will be in the position to
offer the buildings for sale, it was reported.

The first hearing of the condemnation proceedings will be Monday, June
1 in district court here when Judge
B. F. Wright, Park Rapids, will appoint appraisers and set the time for
them to meet.

Total cost of the new school including site will be $260,000.

FAIR SKIES FOR MEMORIAL DAY

COOLER WEATHER PREDICTED
BY UNITED STATES
WEATHER BUREAU

St. Paul, May 29.—(U.P.)—Memorial
Day observances and week end pleasure trips will be conducted under fair
skies and cooler weather the United States weather bureau said today.
Fresh winds will bring a 10 degree

drop in temperature to Minnesota tonight to relieve the four day heat
wave, it was said. Temperatures
around the northern and central part
of the state were at the 60 degree
mark at 7 a. m. today. By tomorrow
they will have dropped to under 50
degrees.

The cooler weather prevailed over North and South Dakota today and
temperatures were down to 46 in the northwest corner of the state. Bismarck, Williston and Devils Lake had 88.

Considerable rain fell over Iowa last
night but a long period of clear skies
was in store for the northwest, the
weather bureau said.

PROCLAMATION

It is my pleasing duty to request
all citizens of Brainerd to properly
observe Memorial Day. It is fitting
that a worthy demonstration be
made at the parade and later at the cemetery. I would request that
flags be displayed in the business
and residential sections and that
all join in honoring the soldiers
living and dead who so faithfully
served their country.

HARRY W. CREGER,
Mayor of Brainerd.

$42,000,000 Taxable

Farm Property is Swept From Rolls

Madison, Wis., May 29.—(U.P.)—Nearly $42,000,000 in taxable farm property was swept from the state tax roll today when Gov. Phillip F. La Follette signed a bill exempting horses, wagons, mules, carriages, and harness
from property taxes.

PICCARD TO MAKE FURTHER TRIPS INTO THE UPPER AIR

otherwise, he will leave the balloon and cabin where they landed, as a monument to the ascension.

Dessau, Germany, May 29.—(UP)—The Junkers Aircraft factory hastened construction today of a special airplane intended for flights in the stratosphere, or upper air, explored by Professor Piccard in his balloon and subsequently declared suitable for human existence.

The ship will have but one engine and will be of low-winged all-metal construction with a wing spread of about 92 feet.

The pilot's compartment will be air tight, specially equipped to regulate the air pressure within.

ANNUAL TRACK, FIELD MEET OF THE I. C. A. A. A. STAGED

FOR FIRST TIME SINCE THEIR INCEPTION FIFTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

OUTDOOR MEET AWARDED TO BERKELEY, CALIF., BETWEEN JULY 2 AND 6

Philadelphia, Penn., May 29.—(UP)—For the first time since their inception 55 years ago, the annual I. C. A. A. A. track and field games will be staged west of the Mississippi river in 1932. Officials of the Intercollegiate Amateur Athletic Association of America decided last night to hold the fifty-sixth renewal of their outdoor meet in Berkeley, Calif., some time between July 2 and 6. Lloyd W. Georges of the University of California officially invited the body to hold its next meet at the site of California's state university.

One of the determining factors in awarding the meet to Berkeley was that the athletes would then already be on the coast for the final Olympic tryouts to be held at Los Angeles July 15 and 16.

Today will be devoted entirely to the running of qualifying heats with all finals scheduled for tomorrow. More than 500 athletes from 37 colleges are entered.

Southern California or Stanford is expected to take the team championship west for the tenth time in the last eleven years. Southern California, with a well-balanced, powerful squad of 21 men, is a heavy favorite to retain the title it won in 1930. The Trojans squad is headed by the flying Frank Wykoff and includes nine of the men who scored points last year at Cambridge.

Eastern hopes are centered in Lawson Robertson's University of Pennsylvania outfit headed by that one-man track team, Barney Berlinger. The Pennsylvanians, however, are entirely too weak in the sprints and hurdles to be given more than an outside chance of victory.

WARDS TROUCE BRAINOS, 10 TO 3

WERNER STRIKES OUT FIFTEEN AND ALLOWS ONLY FIVE HITS

A third inning hitting splurge that netted 6 runs enabled the Montgomery & Ward kittenball team to defeat the Brainerd Beverages, 10-3, in a loosely played game at the N. P. diamond last night.

"Cannonball" Werner maintained the lead by striking out 15 and allowing but five scattered hits. Kane, Graff, and Werner gathered 6 of the Ward hits, Kane, Trask and Graff contributing home runs to the Ward cause. Schwendeman played a fine defensive game.

Propotnik was the leading sticker for the Brainerds, getting two hits out of three times at bat for extra bases. Holman pitched steady ball but ragged fielding by his mates kept him in trouble throughout the game.
